AERONAUTS MET FEARFUL DEATH

Car Became Separated From the Airship Proper.

DE BRADSKI FOLLOWS SEVERO

LATEST ATTEMPT AT NAVIGAT-ING THE AIR FAILS.

DARIS, Oct. 13.-De Bradski, the aeronaut, and a companion were killed by falling from a dirigible balloon today. The balloon started from the aero station at Vaugiriard, a suburb of this city, at 7:55 a. m. on a trial trip. After preliminary maneuvers with a rope attachment, De Bradski released the balloon and proceeded southward at a height of 300 or 400 feet. The propellers of the machine appeared to work well; the rudder, however, was not quite successful.

At 9:20 the balloon had returned to above the point of departure, and then it gradually mounted higher and high-er until it disappeared in the clouds.

About 9:30, when the balloon was be obtained, it is believed that Government. above St. Ains, near St. Dennis, about five and a half miles from the center of the city, the ropes attaching the car to the balloon broke from some un-known cause and the car, with its oc-cupants, De Bradski and Morin, was dashed to the ground and the aeronauts met instant death. The balloon itself disappeared in the clouds.

Wire Ropes Broke.

When the balloon arrived over St. Dennis the aeronauts called to some workmen in the fields asking the direcworkmen in the fields asking the direc-tion to Pantin. De Bradski and Morin were seen moving about the car. Sud-denly one of the wire ropes broke and then another gave way, and the car, weighing 880 pounds, crashed to the ground, burying the aeronauts beneath it. They were crushed, their legs were broken and their faces were bloody, but they were not disfigured. The bodies broken and their faces were bloody, but they were not disfigured. The bodies were taken to St. Dennis.

De Bradski was ready to ascend early last week but postponed the attempt on account of the windy weather. The balloon in which he ascended today was an improvement on his original design, its size being increased, as it was found inadequate to carry the weight intended, and this entailed was found inadequate to carry the weight intended, and this entailed lengthening the car, rearranging the suspension wires and other changes. It was in the form of a cylinder ending in a cone thirty-five feet long in front and twelve feet long behind, the same length as the Santos-Dumont airship, which won the Deutsch prize, though its volume was larger because the ength of the cylindrical part was

Features of Airship.

The halloon proper contained 2,789 Basis of Settlement Could Not Be cubic feet. The frame was seventy feet long and was made of steel tubes. It carried a car sixteen feet long, sus-pended below the envelope of the bal-loon, which guarded it against risk of fire from the sixteen horsepower petroleum motor. The frame weighed 300 pounds. The airship was propelled by a screw twelve feet in diameter and had a rudder with a surface of five square yards. A notable feature was a sail apparatus, consisting of wings a sail apparatus, consisting of wings made of light canvas thirty-six feet long and five feet wide, fixed to the right and left of the envelope, giving it the appearance of an enormous aeroplane and intended to enable the irship to sail about or descend slowly in case the motor stopped.

The catastrophe sent a thrill of horror through Paris, following the disaster to the Brazilian aeronaut, Severo, who was killed May 12 last, and whose balloon started from the same shed. The principle of the latter ship had been warmly discussed and its ascent was awaited with the keenest interest.

Wife Waited Anxiously. present at the start. His wife, though anxions that her husband should demonstrate the success of his invention, witnessed his departure with much emotion, and especially as the conversation of the spectators turned on the fatal ending of the experiment.

De Bradski first tried the ascension-leaves with the case and the second triangle of the most part by brokerage to the west with vectors with the case and the second triangle of the most part by brokerage to the most part by brokerage to the most part by brokerage to the most part to the dosing hour the stock market rallied very generally from its early depression. These rumors were circulated for the most part by brokerage.

De Bradski first tried the ascensional screw, situated below the car, and the airship, held by ropes, rose easily and maintained its equilibrium. De Bradski was satisfied and said he would maneuver over the drilling ground. A whistle was blown and released the ropes, the propelling screw behind was set in the proper direction, when suddenly a southwest wind sprang up and the airship swerved to the northwest instead of the northeast. Crossing the main boulevard the craft executed a number of evolutions, but continued northward with the wind, eventually disappearing over the great white basilica of the Church of the Sacred Heart and the top of the hill of Mont Matre.

The aeronaut's wife and their friends waited at the shed from 8 until 10 o'clock and grew anxious at the prolonged absence. When the balloon was perceived at an immense height this increased the anxiety, as it was known the airship was never intended to rise to such a point. It was, however, mereity the inflated envelope which drifted back across Paris after the accident in which be instructed.

An eye-witness gave the following account of the accident: "I was standing on the steps of my building when I heard a voice calling. I looked up and saw an airship 100 yards in the air. M. Morin was leaning out of the car and saw an airship loo yards in the air. An Morin was leaning out of the car and asked through a megaphone where was a suitable spot to descend. I indicated a place in the neighborhood, and the airship proceeded in the direction I had a place in the heighorhood, and the airship proceeded in the direction I had indicated. A few moments later I saw the balloon turn sharply, and at the same moment I heard a noise like the tearing of a cloth. The piano wires attaching the front of the car to the balloon had broken. Other wires followed suit, the car became detached and it fell to the ground 200 yards distant. The balloon itself bounded up in the air and disappeared. I hurried to the spot and found De Bradski dead and terribly bruised. M. Morin was lying under the remainder of the car. He lived but a few moments."

De Bradski was a Hungarian baron. 26 years old, rich and clever, and had been in the diplomatic service. He made his first ascension in 1901, Morin was his engineer. He leaves a widow and three children.

La Chambre, the constructor of the airship, says he had no confidence in the mechanical part of the airship, out says the balloon had perfect stability and constituted real progress, inasmuch as there was no pitching or sudden shock. The defects were that the car was too light and that the motor and guiding screws were too weak.

BELIEVES PROSPECTS GOOD.

Significant Remark Attributed to Governor Odell.

New York, Oct. 13 .- Governor Odell made this significant remark at the Fifth Avenue hotel tonight: "I believe that the coal strike is nearer to a definite settlement than it has been since it started."

The governor would make no explanation of the reasons for his belief further than to say:

Governor Odel's recommendation of 5 cents per ton increase in the miners' wages and recognition of the union would be the basis of settlement, although the latter may be avoided in part by asking the men to come back to work at the advanced prices with-out any agreement that they must leave their organization, but also without any stipulation that the union will be recognized as a body. Governor Odell, after reaching the hotel at 2:30 o'clock, refused to see any

So far as any legislative extra ses sion goes, it may be said on authority that, if called, it will be merely to provide money for the purchase of coal at higher rates for the public institu-tions and possibly to appropriate money for the relief of the poor. But, although the legislature might be called together for these purposes, it is in the power of the governor while it is in session to send in a special message calling for the revocation of franchises of such roads in the state as obtained their franchises for the avowed purpose of providing coal for the reals.

It is said, however, that at the regular meeting of the railroad presidents tomorrow the governor will be invited to again present his views. That his views have not changed since Friday is well known,

I7 ASHINGTON, Oct. 13 .- According to an appointment made Saturday, Sir Michael Herbert, the new British ambassador, was presented to the president today by Secretary the temporary White House on Jackson square, and this was probably the first occasion since the White House has been occupied as the presidential mansion that the credentials of an ambassador or minister have been ceived outside of its doors.

Instead of calling at the state de-partment first, which is the usual course, the ambassador proceeded di-rectly to the temporary White House with the full staff of the embassy, in Although no definite more and that Governor Odell was this morning in conference with both J. P. Morgan and President Baer, to the latter of whom he so forcibly outlined his position Friday. It is furthermore the opinion that Governor Odell's recommendation of 5 Governor Odell's recommendation of 5 increase in the miners' of the presentation was made in the usual form with the important exception that the president, though progressing rapidly toward recovery, heeded his physician's warning and results of the physician's warning and the physician ed his physician's warning and re-mained seated, not attempting to stand on his wounded leg. The ceremony was brief, consisting in the presentation of the new ambassador by Secretary Hay, the delivery by the ambassador of his credentials and a felicitious address by the ambassador expressive of the pleasare it gave him to return to Washington, and an appropriate response from the president.

That was all of the ceremony, and when it was over, Sir Michael, who is a long-time friend of the president, their acquaintance dating back more than ten years, accepted Mr. Roosevelt's invitation to be seated and the two had a long personal chat.

IN THE TRIAL OF HORN

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 13 .- There were no startling developments in the Horn trial today, the session being taken up with the expert testimony of physicians and gun and ammunition makers regarding wounds inflicted by the different projectiles at various distances, the carrying power of bullets, etc. The importance of the testimony was in the failure or success of the attempt of the prosecution to establish the fact that the Nickell boy was killed by bullets of a calibre no larger than .20. Washington, Oct. 12.—The army medical officers say there is little danger of the bringing of chelera to this country by the army transports from Manila. The Sherman, which arrived at San Francisco last Thursday, reported that she had seven cases of cholera since leaving Manila. This fact gave rise to an apprehension that the disease might still have been active aboardship when the Sherman arrived at San Francisco, but Surgeon General O'Relly, after carefully looking over the dates, stated that the last case had occurred twenty-one days before the transport arrived at San Francisco. As the period of incubation of cholera is only five days, the disease must have died out long before the ship arrived in guarantine.
